

FOR YOU NON-RACERS. THIS IS FOR YOU !

If racing is something you have considered but haven't got to yet, think you might be interested in, or are just curious about, please read on.

To take the mystery out of racing, I, along with a few other HYC members, are offering to provide a how-to clinic, on your own boat, on Thursday night, May _____, and nights throughout the summer as interest warrants. With the cooperation of the Rhodes 19 fleet we will run through a start sequence explaining the various flags and horns, their significance in informing you about crossing the start line on time, explain what end of the line is favored, and how to interpret the pre-set course matrix.

We will try to answer any questions you may have about rules, sail trim, and local conditions that may help in jump starting your racing.

What better way to justify that hole in the water than to use it every Wednesday evening from mid May to September, along with weekend regattas?

For participation please contact me at hbphrf@gmail.com

Please visit the Hingham Bay racing site HBPHRF.org and click on PHRF fleet to gather information on race schedules, acquiring a PHRF certificate, finding people that want to crew, as well as a host of nautical suppliers that support our fleet.

Best regards
